

Summer at Svalbard

von Photostravellers

A summer in the amazing north

Endless emotions being able to visit this archipelago at such a high latitude. See how people can acclimate to living in these climates year-round by sharing territories with polar bears. Territories largely covered by millenary glaciers and permafrost. In the photographs is possible to see the colors that nature offers in the month of July.

